

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

There was much entertainment Tuesday in listening to the various explanations of why certain things happened in Monday's rather unusual town election. Everyone was privileged to study the returns and many did, whereupon there were explanations.

"They were after Bacon," referring to Selectman James Bacon, republican, "and Joe Sayles," referring to former Selectman Alcott D. Sayles, was one popular version as to what happened in the contest for places on this board. All of which sounded plausible enough, and may have been more or less true, until one heard another version. In this case the explanation was "Well, we got Sayles at last, and even without half trying." This version usually came from democrats, who would not and have not voted for Mr. Sayles as a member of their party for years. "The strength that Mr. Sayles always had among a faction of republican voters was still more or less his in Monday's election and saved him from being defeated by more than two votes through his heavy losses in his own party," was another explanation. The reader may take his choice of these explanations offered from various sources or still hold to some other theory of his own.

The fine showing made by Mark Burns, democratic candidate for tax collector, against his successful opponent was accounted for in many quarters on the theory that Tax Collector George Williams is receiving what many taxpayers think is too much compensation for the position and that they showed their resentment by deserting him as republican in many cases and voting for Mr. Burns. The fact remains however, that the compensation rate for collecting the taxes this year is yet to be fixed by the voters, and that there was no real reason to be obtained through Monday's balloting.

A real surprise of the election was the vote given Frederick E. Cunniff, successful candidate for a place on the town school committee. He received a total of 672 votes, more than any other candidate for a place on the committee. Mr. Cunniff ran on the democratic ticket, though he is an avowed republican. His entrance into the election was the aftermath of an error in handling his nomination in the republican caucus. He was not in conference on affairs. His legacy is an army of friends in all parts of eastern Connecticut.

As a banker his ability is attested by the surprising growth of the institution of which he is long with the active executive head and of the commanding place it holds with the people of this part of the state, the name Brooklyn Savings bank being synonymous with safety, strength and service. With bankers everywhere the institution is rated as one of the best of the savings banks of Connecticut, and the deserved respect it commands is in no small measure due to the never failing fidelity with which Treasurer Potter discharged his duties.

As treasurer Mr. Potter was custodian of what now amounts to several millions of dollars of the accumulated wealth of a number of thousands of depositors, all of whom have been benefited from his sterling integrity and all of whom have cause to regret his resignation and to pay tribute to one who has served so faithfully and so well.

Mr. Potter's connection with the bank is not severed, for on Monday he was elected as its assistant secretary and his experience and advice an important matter is still available to the institution. An hour meeting of those interested in the formation of a symphony orchestra was held Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Harriet Olen, 93, who died Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. Michael McCoy of Brooklyn, had been a resident there about a year. She formerly lived in Pomfret and is the grandmother of Guy Baker of Putnam. The body was taken in charge by Undertaker L. E. Kennerly.

Editor and Mrs. Albert F. Ralston have moved from the West Side to Putnam and are occupying a home on School street in that place.

George Alvord, Dayville, new democratic member of the board of selectmen of Killingly, received the congratulations of many friends Tuesday.

There was more than passing interest here in the outcome of the election in the town of Plainfield, and of the fact that Sessions L. Adams, town clerk since 1883, had been defeated.

In Brooklyn the republicans elected victory in Monday's election. Former Jailer Albert S. Fields was elected a member of the board of selectmen.

Attorney E. L. Darbie was in Hartford Tuesday on a business trip.

Local people who are at Oskank beach say that there are millions of small seals in the cove there this fall and if the winter is mild will be exceedingly plentiful next fall.

Riverside—Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bachelder, who have sold their picturesque home, Sundown Hill, Riverside, to Yurid Murai, are at The Maples, Greenwich, where they will remain until their new residence at Winter Park, Fla., is completed.

Whose fault is it when your husband is cross at breakfast?

If you hit your thumb with a hammer you wouldn't blame you thumb for hurting.

Then why blame your husband whose nerves may have been pounded by coffee, and whose rest probably has been broken by the irritation of the caffeine it contains?

If you stay awake half the night you don't feel any too cheerful.

The caffeine of coffee and the tannin of tea are known drugs. If their use is persisted in, sooner or later the nervous system may give way.

Then you may have insomnia, or disturbed sleep. Your nerves and tissues will be robbed of that stability essential for normal and happy living.

Postum for Health
There's a Reason

You can avoid this possibility if you'll stop drinking tea and coffee and drink instead, rich, pleasing Postum.

Postum is the delicious cereal beverage with a coffee-like flavor. It affords the advantages of a hot drink, without the ill effects of tea or coffee.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Try it with the family for a few days, and see what a difference there'll be—how it will permit Nature to bring sound sleep and strong, sturdy, quiet nerves. Sold by grocers.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the coffee is being prepared, made by boiling for 20 minutes.

PUTNAM

Coroner Arthur G. Bill, of Danielson, was at North Grosvenordale, Ferryville and Webster, Tuesday, making a preliminary inquiry relative to the circumstances surrounding the accident in which Stance Maciejewski, 19, of Peter street, Webster, was so badly injured in a motor vehicle accident Sunday evening that he later died at St. Vincent's hospital in Worcester. Maciejewski was driving a motorcycle, with sidecar, without lights and at a high rate of speed when the machine crashed with a nearly new Buick touring car owned and driven by Albert Gendreau of North Grosvenordale. There were nine persons, including the driver, in the Gendreau car, but none of them suffered injuries. Frank Beauregard, a Webster barber, who was riding in the sidecar of the motorcycle, escaped with a bad shaking up and scraped knees.

Upon his return on a trip to the towns to the north early Tuesday afternoon Coroner Bill intimated that he had obtained some very interesting information through interviews with Sheriff Matthew Cabine of Webster, who was one of the first to reach the scene of the accident, and with others who were concerned in it. Coroner Bill is to be busy in the superior court in this city today and Thursday, so the inquiry is to be conducted in the morning, as to examination of witnesses, until the latter part of the week.

It appears that Gendreau had been to Webster to carry some baseball players and had made a return trip from North Grosvenordale to get the eight young men who were with him and bring them to their homes in North Grosvenordale when the accident happened.

All of these young men will be summoned as witnesses and asked to testify at the inquest.

Among the prisoners who will be brought into the superior court here today (Wednesday) to face criminal charges that have been preferred against them will be Grant Earl Davis, of this city, who is charged with the murder of a police officer last Sunday evening and was engaged in directing motor traffic at the corner of School and Providence streets at the time he was shot for a real policeman to come and take him away.

At the time he was lighted up like the proverbial candle in the wind, his refusal to stop was held as a crime. He was shot in the back by a police officer while he was driving a car. He had a grand time while he lasted, but his assignment was a short one.

Davis has been a periodical visitor in the city court for the last decade. Since 1908 he has been before the local court sixteen different times, on charges of intoxication, of being a common drunkard and breach of the peace. Upon his most recent visit, to face a charge of being a common drunkard, he was unable to furnish bonds of $500 to insure his appearance in the superior court, so was sent over to the county jail to await trial.

John G. Johnson, Byron D. Bugbee and William S. Johnson constitute a committee named at the annual business meeting of the town of Putnam, and report to the adjourned annual meeting relative to the town taking over the Gardner property on South Main street. This property was presented through the terms of the will of the late Gardner, on condition that a public library be established there. For various reasons and considerations, the town heretofore has not voted to accept the property, which is to be given to the beneficiary named in the will in case the town does not accept it. It was stated to the meeting by H. Harold Gillette that he had been informed by an attorney that there were no insurmountable legal obstacles in the way of the town taking over the property for other than library purposes provided that no objection was made to such a course. The person to whom it is to go in case Putnam does not accept the property as indicated in the will. The committee appointed to inquire into all of the angles of the subject and report to the meeting mentioned.

Hebrews of this city have been engaged the past two days in the observance of the Hebrew New Year. Services have been held at the local synagogue, where many have attended, while others have been attending services in cities in different parts of southern New England.

Thompson turned in a normal republican majority in Monday's annual town election. The board of selectmen is made up of Louis N. Warner, republican, first selectman, who received 441 votes, of Charles V. Chase, republican, who received 340 votes and of Wilfred H. Bellmore, democrat, who received 228 votes. P. J. Baker, defeated democratic candidate for selectman, received 151 votes. E. H. Cortis and Otto Sward, republicans, were elected members of the town school committee, as was Rev. Bernard M. Donnelly, democrat, who filled a vacancy on the town school committee. Miss Sarah Crosby, republican, was elected.

Dyer S. Elliott, republican, was re-elected town clerk and treasurer. The meeting turned down a proposition that what is known as the Children's home road, leading from Thompson town to the Children's home, in the town of Putnam, be made a state road and an appropriation made for improving it. The fact that the town of Thompson recently expended $18,000 as its share of constructing the state road, Hill highway, another state aid road, is believed to have been largely responsible for the voters failing to improve another heavy road for the Children's home road at the time.

The police report for September, as presented to the October meeting of the common council Tuesday evening, shows that there were 15 arrests in Putnam during the period. The offenses for which prisoners were locked up included breaking and entering, larceny, drunkenness, assault, theft, sodomy, assault, resisting an officer and violations of the motor vehicle laws.

One man arrested received a jail sentence, two others were bound over to the superior court and in default of bonds sent to jail, five were held for other offenses and five paid fines and costs. Two boys were committed to the Connecticut state school for boys.

Two doors were reported as being found open by officers engaged in latching in the business section and street lights were reported on a total of 280 hours.

Property and money stolen were reported as of a value of $1575, of which $1545, including a nearly new automobile, was recovered.

It is of prime interest to voters of both sexes everywhere in eastern Connecticut that 600 women came out in the rain to cast their ballots in Monday's annual town election here and, in many cases, to the polls in the rain, in the political affairs of their community and of their desire to participate in every effort for good government. The strength of the women at the polls here on such a dreary and messy day, which many men seized upon as an excuse to avoid their electoral duties, made a deep impression upon many male voters and amazed not a few of them.

MOTHER, QUICK! GIVE CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP FOR CHILD'S BOWELS

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the child is little cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, a teaspoonful will never fail to open the bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste from the tender, little bowels and gives you a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on the bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

The visitor had evidently taken a grab at a box in which money is kept the grab netting $35 out of about $50 that could have been taken.

Tuesday morning the man who lost the money received a letter. The letter contained the missing $35, and nothing more. Case of being conscience stricken in the manner in which the return of the money is explained.

The man who temporarily lost the money is at a loss to know who took it, as the thief was not seen to enter or leave the place where the money was taken, the place being left deserted for a few minutes.

Indications are that there will be a crowded court room this (Wednesday) morning when prisoners to face criminal charges in the superior court are brought to this city to be put to plea.

On the heels of the town election there came a revival Tuesday of talk about candidates for the biennial city election to be held in December. Interest centers around choice of candidates for mayor to succeed Mayor A. W. Marcy, who is not a candidate for re-election.

The annual meeting of the board of management and committee of visitors of the Windham County Home for Children is held at the home in the Sawyer district.

Light frosts were noted in some of the territory heretofore Tuesday morning, but all of the section has as yet escaped any killing frosts.

The case of Mrs. Ellen Rioux vs. Miss Elizabeth Dealy will be tried in the town court Thursday morning before a jury of six with Judge Arthur F. Libby as referee on the bench. No local case of recent date has caused such widespread interest. It is believed that Miss Dealy will contend that there has been breach of contract.

Charlie Butts rented one of the gardens on the East Main street hillside. This year as well as last he took the blue ribbon as a potato raiser. He dug more potatoes from 200 hills than anyone has yet reported, and he wheeled them in a barrow a half mile to his house on School street.

The drive for clothing to be sent across for relief work by the Red Cross will close this week Friday. Mrs. W. T. Crumb will be at the Red Cross room, Friday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 8 to receive all contributions of clothing.

Donald Buckingham is seriously ill at the home of his parents on South Main street.

Miss Beauregard will open a millinery store, in Jewett City hotel office, Thursday and Friday each week—adv.

A vote carried in the town election Monday in reference to the Griswold school consolidation was, it is now generally believed, not very well understood. One voter admitted that he got "Yes" and pointed to the school consolidation as he was voting on the license question as of old, so he slipped in a Yes. The question was asked Tuesday on the street, "What is to become of the debt of about $200 of the Griswold school district?" By its vote the town eliminated its fourteenth school district and the school committee of these districts must automatically retire in favor of a school board elected by the town upon whom will devolve the duties heretofore held by the several district committees. The Riverside grammar school building, was built by the Twelfth school district and is owned by it.

A few facts have been learned relative to conditions that will apply to this town when the next school year opens. There will be no more of the schools closed. Of 14 districts in Griswold, no school is being held in but nine today. The schools 151 will be in the hands of one town school committee which is responsible to the voters. When repairs are made the town will not be disturbed by bills. Obviously it is just as well to have the town unit of management in schools as well as in other affairs.

Of the 1541 towns in New England before election, there were only 10 under the district system. Now there are only eight, as Colchester and Griswold voted to consolidate. All these towns are in Connecticut.

Finances—Health officer is paid fees; per annum $53.50, which includes expenses.

Approximate expenditures for the last fiscal year for the following: Control of communicable diseases, $29; school inspection, $12; all other (unclassified), $12.50. Total expended for all health work, including health officer compensation and excluding garbage and school inspection, $39.

Town pays annually to state institutions for care of insane, $647.45; from tuberculosis fund, $117.14.

Communicable Diseases—Cases of the following occurred during the year: Diphtheria 3, scarlet fever 5, mumps 4, tuberculosis 1, typhoid fever 1.

Physicians report cases promptly. Nearest isolation hospital is Norwich. Vaccination in the schools is not enforced.

Antitoxin—I keep antitoxins and vaccines on ice. Have the following supply of antitoxins on hand: Diphtheria, 11 packages, 1,000 units; scarlet fever, 5,000 units; 19 packages, 10,000 units; Tetanus, 4 packages, 1,500 units; 4 packages, 5,000 units. I keep a record of antitoxins distributed to physicians.

Laboratory Service—I am well supplied with outfit for physicians to send specimens. The service of the laboratory of this department located at New Haven has been satisfactory.

Sanitation—Garbage is collected by manufacturers in own village and is under supervision of health officer. Garbage after collection is carried to dump.

Town is sewered in village of Glasgo, not for village and borough of Jewett City. Outside toilets are maintained where sewers are available; water power not sufficient for toilets in Glasgo.

Regular attention is given to the sanitary condition of schools and no special campaign has been undertaken to improve general sanitary conditions.

Water, Milk and Food—Public water supply in Glasgo village and in borough of Jewett City; the water has been inspected by the company and the water sheds have been inspected. The condition of the wells in general is fairly good.

milk sold daily in town is 900. Approximately 24 persons are producing milk. No milk inspection system.

School inspection—School inspection is under the direct of the health officer; parochial schools are included. In parochial schools are 220 pupils.

Child Hygiene—No infant or child welfare work has been undertaken; we have no day nurseries and no milk stations.

Would suggest as best method for approaching child hygiene work in town the employment of a district nurse to co-operate with the two nurses now employed by the corporations in town.

Public Health Nursing—In general visiting nursing, none; tuberculosis nursing, none; school nursing, none. We have on file a list of trained nurses competent and willing to care for communicable diseases; one residing in town.

The town needs a nurse to visit localities not covered by the corporation nurses and the schools; several practical nurses. Administration—The records of our office are up to date. Efforts are made to keep the public informed as to the activities and importance of our office.
